Hey there, it's Christian Graffeo. I'm your go-to personal trainer and foodie fanatic, but it wasn't always this way. Growing up overweight, I turned my love for food into a passion for culinary arts, graduating from culinary school before diving into the world of fitness. With nine years in the game and NASM certification, I'm all about helping you crush those fitness goals while still enjoying delicious, healthy meals.

When I'm not sweating it out in the gym, you'll catch me pounding the pavement or taking a stroll, all while keeping my family close. Let's team up and smash those wellness goals together, one workout at a time!
